"If a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand." The foregoing passage chosen from Mark's Gospel, is the Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Reality" in all Churches of Christ, Scientist.

The Bible Lesson includes a night vision of Daniel. "One like the Son of man" says Daniel, "came with the clouds of heaven. . . . And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all people, nations, and languages, should serve him; his dominion is everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed." Referring to John the Baptist, Jesus is reported in John's Gospel as saying: "I have greater witness than that of John: for the works which the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me."
As a part of the Lesson-Sermon the following citation from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, is included: "Because man-made systems insist that man becomes sick and useless, suffers and dies, all in consequence with the laws of God, are we to believe that we are to believe an authority which denies God's spiritual command relating to perfection—an authority which Jesus proved to be false? He did the will of the Father. He healed sickness in defiance of what is called material law, but in accordance with God's law, the law of Mind."

Easter Again Offers Pledge of Immortality, Fr. Bauer States

Addressing his annual Easter greetings to Catholics and non-Catholics alike in the community, Rev. Father Joseph L. Bauer, pastor of the Church of the Nativity, said this week: "Easter Sunday the Catholic church throughout the world will throw aside all the austere garments of the penitential season and stand forth in all the sublime dignity of her Liturgical pomp to celebrate the greatest event in the history of the world—a Conqueror over death and sin—a pledge to her children and their friends of a glorious resurrection and future immortality."
"The breath of Easter fans into warm glow the dying embers of hope because Easter is the eternal embodiment of hope and the solemn promise that tragedy is converted into triumph and defeat turned into victory. All who either observe the happenings in this world or in some way or other try to work for the betterment of mankind need Easter to rekindle their lagging zeal and to restore their ebbing confidence."
"Easter in reality is a philosophy of life. It stands for an actual fact but it is also the symbol of hope and the source of optimism. Now that the world situation is alarming and the tree of time is heavy with deadly fruits our hearts would sink within us and our souls freeze with numbing fear were it not for the glow of Easter Morn."
"He is the True Lamb—Who by dying hath overcome our death and by rising again hath restored our life. Yesterday I suffered with Christ on the Cross, today am glorified with Him. Yesterday I died with Him; today am I become alive with Him; yesterday was I buried with Him; today do I arise with Him." (St. Gregory Naz.)
"On this most solemn festive occasion, I invoke the blessings of the Risen Saviour upon the members of the parish and the entire community, praying to God that having spent a sincere and penitential season of Lent we are prepared to receive Him worthily into our hearts." Father Bauer concluded.
